Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Shakespeare After Three Hundred Years For the time is one which calls on us to revise all our values. It calls on us to discard our formulae and break our idols. Disrobe the images If you do find them decked with ceremonies. With what we have loved, as well as with what we have indolently accepted, this revaluation has to be made. Analysis and embroidery have for ages worked in or round Shakespeare. Now that both processes may seem, for the time being, to have reached exhaustion, it is worth while to try to stand back from them; to ask ourselves what Shakespeare really was, and what after three centuries he really is. For doing so, the time is doubly apt. Industry and research have accumulated, one may say with some confidence, all the facts that are of any importance, besides many more that are of none; and have not only accumulated, but weighed and assorted them. Sir Sidney Lee's Life in its latest form, a monumental tribute to the anniversary which we are...
