Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Lincoln in New England Abraham Lincoln first set foot on New England soil in 1848. He had grown as do the oaks, by the inherent expansion of the right royal law of life. This erstwhile lad of the forest, scion of Kentucky, Indiana, and Illinois, rail-splitter, Mississippi boatman, frontier storekeeper, deputy surveyor, country lawyer, state assembly-man, had in fact grown to be one of the most distinguished citizens of Illinois and a representative of that state in the National House of Representatives. He had taken an active part in the work of the Thirtieth Congress and, when the near approach of the coming presidential election enlivened its closing days, he had taken the floor and spoken so well in favor of Old Rough and Ready that his speech was reported the country over by the Whig press.
