The full title of the First centenary is The first centenary of a series of concise and useful tables of all the complete decimal quotients which can arise from dividing a unit, or any whole number less than each divisor, by all integers from 1 to 1024. To which is now added a tabular series of complete decimal quotients for all the proper vulgar fractions of which, when in their lowest terms, neither the numerator nor the denominator, is greater than 100: with the equivalent vulgar fractions prefixed. By Henry Goodwyn, London.1818. The work is of quarto size. The First centenary contains pp. xiv.+ 18: then follows the Tabular series (with a separate title-page) which contains pp. vii. + 30 (pp. 17--30 forming an appendix). The first centenary consists of a series of a hundred small tables, corresponding to the first hundred numbers. The following is a specimen: --Thus = 973684 and the other digits of the period, viz. 2105263157S94, are at once completed by the aid of the period at the head of the column: similarly = 921052 and the rest of the period is completed as before. If the numerator is in the right-hand column, the complementary digits are to be taken: thus = 026315 and the rest of the period, viz. 7894736842105, is completed as before. When there are several periods, these are all given at the head of the...
