

DOWNLOAD

Assessing the Input Markets for Cashmere Production in Mongolia

By Michael Lutzke

GRIN Verlag Nov 2007, 2007. Taschenbuch. Book Condition: Neu. 214x149x6 mm. This item is printed on demand - Print on Demand Neuware - Diploma Thesis from the year 2007 in the subject Agrarian Studies, grade: 1,3, Christian-Albrechts-University of Kiel, 59 entries in the bibliography, language: English, abstract: The objective of this paper is to assess these most important input markets for cashmere herding. In order to do so, the markets are first described in detail followed by an assessment of problems which occur in relation to livestock herding. It is clear that any improvement in this area will require a deep understanding of how these markets operate and what obstacles will impede further development. In addition, this paper will evaluate the enforceability and appropriateness of solutions suggested by the Mongolian government and by foreign donor agencies. To support our findings, we conducted a survey of Mongolian cashmere herders who were asked what daily difficulties and major obstacles they face on their livelihoods. The survey took place in October 2006 and covered 50 herding households in five aimags², focusing on the two provinces, Bayankhongor and Uvorkhangai, that have a high number of cashmere goats.³ Herders were selected randomly from a widely...

READ ONLINE
[5.12 MB]

Reviews

It is really an incredible publication that we have possibly study. Of course, it really is engage in, continue to an interesting and amazing literature. You are going to like how the writer compose this publication.

-- Bailey Lehner

This is the greatest book we have read through till now. It is probably the most amazing book we have go through. I am just happy to tell you that here is the greatest book we have read through during my individual daily life and may be he best ebook for possibly.

-- Eliseo Leffler